U.S. Protests Sino Firing Upon Yank Merchant Vessel

Acheson Also Says Ward Treatment Precludes Recognition for Reds

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—The United States is protesting to the Chinese Nationalist government against a Chinese warship's firing on an American merchant vessel.

Secretary of State Acheson told a news conference today an immediate protest is being made against this endangering of American lives.

Acheson also declared that Chinese Communist treatment of American Consul General Angus Ward at Mukden presently removes any possibility of considering recognition of the Chinese Communist government.

He said some progress is being made in efforts to obtain the release of two U.S.A. officials held by the Communist regime in northern Korea.

China in response to an American request is taking up the matter with the Korean Communist authorities, Acheson said.

Acheson discussed the Far Eastern situation after first summarizing his meeting in Paris last week with the British and French foreign ministers and his subsequent trip to Germany.

While declining to go into any detail on the Paris Big Three Conference, Acheson emphasized that complete agreement was reached on German problems. He said he was greatly impressed by the progress which Western Germany is making in its political reconstruction.

The Far Eastern issues dominated the questions and answers which followed his prepared statements.

"There was first the case of the 'Shan Hai' the International Steamship Company's vessel fired on, and reportedly hit several times, by Chinese Nationalist warships. The Chinese Nationalists have declared a blockade of Communist-held China ports, but the United States has refused to recognize the blockade.

He said the United States is protesting to the Chinese Nationalist government immediately against the endangering of American lives when the shelling took place.

Sentenced to Commuted

Washington, N. Y., Nov. 16 (AP)—Governor Dewey today saved from the electric chair a New York city man who was sentenced to death despite a jury recommendation for mercy. The governor commuted the death sentence of Samuel 'Alto' Williams, 29, to life imprisonment. He had been scheduled to die tomorrow night. Williams, a Negro, was convicted March 2, 1948, for the fatal beating of 16-year-old Emma Gaff of Brooklyn during an attempted burglary of her home.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—The position of the treasury yesterday: Net budget receipts $92,944,552.60; Budget expenditures $189,551,179.17; Cash balance $4,688,549.77. Chinese Nationalist warship fired on American merchant vessel.

Washington, Nov. 16 (AP)—A fleet of police scout cars roared through Detroit's East Side streets last night to rescue an abducted child.

After an hour's tense hunt and chase, little Karen Kuechenmeister, 7, stolen from her home, was returned safely to the arms of her frantic mother.

Karen had been snatched virtually from the bosom of her family.

There followed a portly dash by 18 police scout cars which hit speeds of 80 and 90 miles an hour in an eight-mile streets and alleys race in pursuit.

But the blonde, blue-eyed tot, little the worse for her experience, was brought home unharmed.

A 35-year-old father of a baby girl was seized as a suspect.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor Ralph Garber said sex was the motive of the abductor, who stole Karen from the living room of her home on fashionable Alter Road.

Karen is one of three children of Karl Kuechenmeister, hardware salesman.

Officers arrested William B. Mabrey two miles from the spot where the abductor abandoned his car and fled afoot amid police gunfire.

He had left Karen in the car. She clambered out and scampered off to the refuge of a nearby house.

Mabrey, manager of a small hotel and pool room on East Jefferson avenue, was held on a technical charge of kidnapping and taking indecent liberties with a minor.

Beside the abductor's abandoned car was found a man's brown jacket, police said. In one pocket were Karen's panties.

Mabrey was arrested when he called police to report that his car was stolen. It was in shirt-sleeves when arrested, police said.

Kuechenmeister said Karen was playing with her three-year-old brother, Karl, Jr., and her baby sister, Janice, 18 months, when the intruder appeared.

The father said he and his wife were upstairs dressing to go out to dinner. They had left the front door open because they were expecting a baby sister.

"I heard the door open," Kuechenmeister said, "but supposed it was the sister. Then we heard the children screaming. I went to investigate because the screams seemed so loud to be of joy."

"Karl was jumping up and down and screaming 'That man's got Karen!' and pointed to the door."

"We ran outside and saw the man running away with my girl under his arm. I chased him but couldn't catch him. I called the police to report that his car was stolen. It was in shirt-sleeves when arrested, police said.

CROP Drive Under Way

Rosendale, Nov. 15.—The Christian Rural Overseas Program, known as CROP, was inaugurated last week, and the campaign will continue beyond the original closing date of Nov. 13. CROP is sponsored by Catholic Rural Life, Church World Relief and Lutheran World Relief.

Emphasis is on commodity donations from rural areas, but cash donations are acceptable and will be used to purchase canned food items. Shipment is in railroad lots and distribution is made by church-sponsored institutions abroad where the need is greatest—to helpless children, homeless refugees, lonely aged and ill who are dependent upon charity for their very existence.

CROP chairman for the town of Rosendale is George Mollenhauer. Included on his committee are Earl Mack, Kenneth Clark and Arthur Hahn.

Three Boys Held

New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—Three Bronx boys, one armed with a slingshot, were held today on suspicion of running a window-breaking shakedown racket. Police said the trio admitted an extortion attempt on a Bronx girl yesterday, but denied a half-dozen recent window-smashings in the neighborhood. The oldest boy, 16, was identified by police as Joseph Knipe (of 3034 Kingsbridge avenue), on parole from a reformatory for juvenile delinquency. He was charged with attempted extortion. The other two boys, 14 and 15, were booked for delinquency and their names withheld.

May Return to Coast

Hollywood, Nov. 16 (AP)—Rita Hayworth expects to return to the film capital some time in March. So says her dancing master father, Eduardo Canino, who said yesterday he had received a letter from his daughter. He added that she recently wrote of the possibility of her making a motion picture soon, but added she did not mention this in her latest letter. Canino said he received a letter from Princess Aly Khan a week ago saying she is in Switzerland awaiting the birth of her baby.

Noonan Is Killed

New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—John Noonan, 25, a cleaner in a garage of the New York City Omnibus corporation, was killed last night when he was crushed between two buses while one was being parked. Frank Yates, 42, of Elmhurst, Queens, driver of the bus, was charged with vehicular homicide, police said.

Kaye Band Rated First in Annual Billboard Voting

Sammy Kaye and his Swing and Sway orchestra who will appear in person at the 13th annual Congregational Ahavath Israel stage show and ball on Thanksgiving Eve, November 23, at the municipal auditorium, were recently voted the top sweet band in the nation by Billboard's third annual disc jockey poll.

The Kaye outfit polled 276 points in winning the favorite band honors over Claude Thornhill, Guy Lombardo, Paul Weston and Vaughn Monroe. The Thornhill band, finishing second, received 222 votes.

Three of Sammy's hired hands—Don Cornell, Laura Leslie and Tony Alamo—also fared well in the voting, designating top vocalists throughout the country in the Billboard poll.

Cornell, in the voting for the favorite male band vocalist, finished second to Vaughn Monroe with a difference of only four points, 388 to 394. Tony Alamo was third with 212.

Laura Leslie, who is skyrocketing to fame with her appearances with the Swing and Sway orchestra, finished in third for the vote.

of the favorite female band vocalist. This class went to Rosemary Clooney, ex-singer with Tony Pastor; while Marjorie Hughes, daughter of the ace pianist, Frankie Carle, finished second.

Winding up their representation in the voting for top singers was Tony Alamo of the Kaye band who was rated second place in the most promising male vocalist group. Bill Lawrence, Arthur Godfrey's discovery, was selected No. 1.

Sammy Kaye and his entire band will be in Kingston on the night of November 23 to furnish dance music for the Ahavath Israel ball and entertainment. Sammy's "So You Want to Lead a Band" feature also will be presented during the evening's entertainment.

Do You Remember

by SOPHIE MILLER

Morse's Gazetteer of 1823 brings out an interesting item in its description of the Catskill Mts. "A range of mountains which proceeds from the Highlands in a northerly direction through the counties of Ulster and Greene. They are the highest land in the state.

"Round Top," the highest summit, according to the measurement of Capt. Partridge, is 3,804 feet above the level of the sea, and "High Peak" the next highest, is 3,713." (Note: Present-day engineers place the elevation of "Round Top" mountain at 3,723 feet. In the year 1823, it was evidently thought that "Round Top" in the Catskills, was the highest point in New York state. They were in error, in this belief, as it is now known that Mt. Marcy, in the Adirondacks, is the highest point in New York state, with an elevation of 5,344 feet. This proves that New York state was somewhat of a wilderness even in the year 1823, as they did not yet know the location of the highest point in the state.)

"The post town of Catskill and capital of Greene county (according to the 1823 records) is on the Hudson at the entrance of the Catskills. The village is built principally on a single street parallel to this creek, and contains the county building, two banks, an Academy for females and three churches. One church for Presbyterians, one for Baptists and one for Episcopalians. It is a place of considerable trade, 33 miles below Albany, 5 below Hudson. Population 3,510, of whom 1,443 are in the village."

An interesting item sent by E. Ruppel of Albany from the "Knickerbocker Press" column by James Scott called "Looking at Albany." It covers documents and souvenirs owned by Kenneth Tucker, Stabler clerk at the Westchester County Jail, who died in 1934. J. P. Tucker was also in charge of the government printing office at West Point for some 15 years and secretary of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association, so perhaps local firemen remember him.

Among the old books is an 1886 facsimile reprint of the first directory of New York city in 1786. In the collection is a stained and cracked dinner menu of the Irving House at Catskill. Inside cover is written explanation that menu was found on Steamer Emeline "after she was raised out of Catskill Creek, where she sank October 5, 1892."

He also has copy of "The Banner of Freedom" dated April 30, 1865, issued by Union soldiers captured in Confederate territory, the day after Lee surrendered. It was printed at Sumter, S. C. It told people of Sumter, "You have been overpowered by numbers and are a conquered people today."

Two almanacs are in the collection, an 1850 reprint of "Poor Richard's Almanac" and the "Whig Almanac" of 1847, of which Horace Greeley was co-publisher. The latter, devoted almost entirely to legislative and political news, contained an alphabetical list of new tariff duties of 1864, from "absynthe" to zinc.

anniversary for Jimmy, the youngest, and Mrs. Platt baked him a birthday cake while daughter Sherry, 14, looked on. Mrs. Platt, 31, is out on bond pending arraignment on the charge. She is accused of signing her husband's name in the $1,200 sale of the family automobile.

Mrs. Platt admitted in a signed statement that she made a $324 down payment on a plot to have her husband killed because "I couldn't stand his constant love making" in their 15 years of marriage. She named Hollis D. Scott, 23, a former private detective as the man accepting the down payment. She told authorities the plot was discarded and it was agreed she would sell the auto and finance Scott and herself in going east.

But when she was left on the dock in Seattle with only $20 of the automobile proceeds, and no Scott, she telephoned her husband and told Platt all about it. Police were called in, and Scott and Wallis Mottern, 22, were charged with grand larceny by embezzlement. Authorities said Scott represented Mottern to Platt as the "gunman" who was to kill her husband.

Both Scott and Mottern told authorities they had no intention of going through with the slaying.

50 Central Trains To Be Restored
New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—About 50 New York Central Railroad passenger trains will be restored to service at midnight Sunday because of the end of the coal strike.

The trains being resumed are about one-third of those cancelled because of the strike. More trains will be restored gradually as the railroad's coal stockpiles are built up. A Central spokesman said yesterday in announcing the resumption. With a new coal strike threatened for Dec. 1, the restoration of more trains is uncertain, the spokesman said. The Central now has 15 days' supply of coal on hand.

The way for the Sunday midnight resumption was cleared by the Interstate Commerce Commission's cancellation of an order that railroads with less than 25 days' coal supply cancel 25 percent of their steam passenger operations. The trains being restored are those for which there is the greatest public need, the railroad said. The list includes:

Main line, east of Buffalo—(westbound) train Number 159, daily Albany to Buffalo, train Number 33, daily Albany to Buffalo and train Number 81, daily except Saturday, New York City to Buffalo (eastbound) train Number 146 daily, Albany to New York City, train Number 140, daily Syracuse to New York City, train Number 54, Sunday only, Syracuse to New York City, train Number 42, daily, Buffalo to Albany; and train Number 34, daily, Syracuse to New York City. West Shore—(northbound) train Number 3, daily, Weehawken, N. J. to Albany. (Southbound) train Number 2, daily except Saturday and Sunday, Albany to Weehawken.

Shaw Estate Appraised
New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—The late Albert E. Shaw, editor and founder of American Review of Reviews, left a net estate of $796,328. Shaw's homes were in Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., and Winter Park, Fla. He died June 26, 1947. An estate tax appraisal was filed yesterday. He left his widow, Mrs. Virginia McCall Shaw, his Florida property and an interest in the residuary estate along with his sons, Albert, Jr. and Roger of Hartford, Conn. Gross assets were $1,159,707, of which $1,028,609 was in securities.

That did no good, so he wasted out the boy's mouth with a cup. Confounded with this testing, Eric admitted all the truth. He been loose and he had pulled it out. "I am of the opinion," replied Officer Dunham, that the boy was not mistreated in any way. If anyone was mistreated, it was the baby sitter and her father.

Today's Business Mirror

New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—Things are getting so complicated that it's almost necessary to have a statistician figure out how much money you really make in a week.

For instance, the average factory worker is making more money than he did even during the wartime boom—but his real earnings are less. That is, his week's work buys less goods.

Total personal income so far this year tops all previous years except the average for 1948, which was the all-time peak. But even in that year nearly one-third of the nation's individuals and families made less than $2,000 a year in cash.

The National Industrial Conference Board, a non-profit research organization, finds that the average weekly earnings of production workers in manufacturing amounted to $54.60 in August, the most recent figure.

That is 129 per cent higher than the average 10 years ago. Even the peak year of 1944 when everyone was working overtime and getting premium pay, the average was only 93 per cent above 1933. Top pay, incidentally, was earned last December—an average of $54.14 a week.

The question is: "How much of that income is spendable and how much will it buy?" In other words, when you bring home your pay envelope minus income tax and Social Security payments, what can you and your wife buy with it?

The conference board says you can buy 33.5 per cent more as of last August than you could 10 years ago, even though your gross pay is 129 per cent higher today than it was then.

Back the enlarged earnings since the war. But it also shows that the average factory worker is well ahead of the game so far as the comparison with pre-war years is concerned.

Pensions and insurance are difficult to figure because of wide variance in the plans among different industries. In some the employee contributes a share of his earnings and in others he doesn't. In any event, it's a deferred pay increase payable at a later date. As such it should be figured into gross pay.

If those current pay roll figures for factory workers seem low at the rate of $2,830 a year, then take a look at the nation's total personal income figures.

For September the Department of Commerce reported personal income stood at an annual rate of $10,800,000,000. With a population of 150,000,000, that figure worked out at an average income of $1,400. That's a lower average than last year, which was the peak. But even last year the average per capita income was only $1,410.

That figure includes just about everything in income—wages, salaries, dividends, farm incomes, rents, pensions, relief checks and other payments.

Nevertheless, the Senate-Economic Committee says some 10,000,000 individuals and families last year made less than $2,000 in cash income both in cities and on the farms.

Their survey is pointed at the fact that these people would buy more if they made more. One of their reports said these people represent "a new and expanding market for the products of American industry."

The minimum wage law, which will become effective in January, was designed to step up such incomes a notch or two. It raises minimum wages to 75 cents an hour from the present 40 cents.

Already there are movements afoot to hike the minimum wage to $1 an hour.

The government itself is the nation's biggest employer. In the current fiscal year the government is paying some $10,200,000,000 in wages and salaries.

That comes eight per cent of all wages and salaries. The amount is paid to government workers who compose six per cent of the nation's working force.

Balancing acts come naturally to the sea lion. In the wild state, the animal tosses fish and catches them precisely so that they can be eaten head first.

TAX BILL DOWN, BUT NOT TOO MUCH—The average American's personal tax bill was almost $19 less, at an annual rate, in the first half of 1940, according to figures of the National Industrial Conference Board, on which the above chart is based. The average American's personal income was down only $10, giving him almost $3 more in disposable income. The average tax bill is still six and one-half times what it was in 1935-1939, while the disposable income left is only two and one-half times as much.

"I thought I'd have to quit college"

[A typical story of everyday Americans
—the most independent people on earth]

"When things went bad at Dad's store, it sure looked as if I'd have to quit college with only a year to go. Then Uncle Fred came to the rescue.

"Rich uncle? Shucks, not Uncle Fred! But thrifty! He'd been adding to his Savings Bank account regularly for years —just in case there's a rainy day in the family," he wrote me. No wonder I opened a Savings Bank account myself as soon as I went to work—and kept it growing, too!"

In New York State more people put their savings in Savings Banks than anywhere else. They like dealing with a friendly, familiar, neighborhood Savings Bank. And above all, they know their money is safe.

So guard your financial independence as 7 million New Yorkers do. Open a Savings Bank account this week. And keep your account growing—add to it every payday. Remember, saving makes the difference between wishing and having.

EX-JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

The other day I picked up the telephone to call Eleanor, and it was almost half a minute before I could remember my number at home. At the time, this memory lapse didn't seem worth brooding about, but last night I happened to meet up with a well-known psychiatrist at the Stork Club, and over a jugger of ginger-beer I told him what had happened.

"It was probably a mild attack of amnesia," he said. "As a rule, the victims are folks who, consciously or unconsciously, want to escape from their routine chores, and every now and then their minds blank out as a protest against doing the same old things the same old way."

"What kind of pills should I take?"

"Fun pills," said the mind-medicine. "Buy yourself a salami, take up skeet-shooting, or get a set of water colors and learn how to paint."

"And supposing I don't?"

"Chances are nothing will happen except that you'll forget a few more phone numbers. On the other hand, there's always the possibility that the spells may get longer and more frequent. That's what happened not long ago to a good friend of yours."

"What's his name?"

"I don't think he'd relish seeing it in print," said the psychiatrist. "Jerry—and I'm sure you know the Jerry I mean—used to be one of Broadway's leading juveniles and stay-out lites. Five years ago, as you know, he put away his hair-oil and got a job producing radio shows. And not long after, he married the daughter of a network executive, bought a home in Scarsdale and decided to settle down."

"Well, as often happens when a girl has too much dowry, his wife did most of the settling for him. She made him exchange his friends for hers, his fun for hers and his life for hers. And within a year, the man who used to be a gay dog became all dog—a Westchester version of Caspar Milquetoast."

"After two years of being yammered at by his missus, Jerry came in to see me one day and said that he was having trouble with his memory—that it was blanking out on him every now and then. I asked him some questions about his home life, and when he told me what it was like I advised him to stand up to his wife and, if necessary, slap her down occasionally. He told me, quite seriously, she wouldn't stand for such a thing."

"One morning several months later, he came to my office and told me quite a tale. It seems that on his way home the night before he had had an attack of amnesia, and when he came to fifteen hours later he was in a New York hotel room, with no idea of what had happened in between."

"I phoned his wife, and from her story, managed to put the pieces together. Jerry's memory had snapped as he got to the door of his house in Scarsdale—perhaps in protest against the stuffy people his wife had invited to dinner—and all he knew was that he was standing on a strange stoop."

"Afraid to ring the bell, he sneaked into the back yard, found an open window, hoisted himself through, then recognizing nothing, stopped to puzzle out the situation. Who was he? What sort of man would climb through the window of a strange house? Only a burglar, of course. Ergo, he must be a burglar. And so he tiptoed upstairs, entered his wife's bedroom and began stuffing her jewelry into his pockets.

"At this point, his missus walked in, told him to stop playing cops and robbers, and began badgering him at the top of her very loud lungs. But Jerry, the burglar, instead of melting into the carpet, belted her one right in the teeth."

"That's all there was to it. Somehow, he got back to New York, checked in at a hotel, and when he woke up his amnesia was gone."

"Did you tell his wife that her husband wasn't himself when he clipped her on the chin?" I asked.

"The psychiatrist smiled. "Of course not, and what's more, I advised my patient to keep mum. Jerry went home to a big reconciliation scene—the old 'worm-turns' story—and ever since, the more spite he has shown the more supine his wife has become. I went out to his house for a poker session recently, and the only time she came in the room was when she brought in the drinks. To date, there have been no recurrences of amnesia, and it's my belief that if Jerry doesn't take any more nonsense from his wife, there won't be."

"Are you suggesting I go home and hang a shiner on Eleanor's eye?" I asked.

"In your case," said the psychiatrist, "I doubt if it's necessary. However, if you have any more trouble remembering telephone numbers, I suggest you invest a few dollars in a water-color set."

New York Printing Wages Show Increase

Wage increases for New York printing trades ranged from 10 to 71½ cents an hour during the past year and a half, according to a survey of union wage scales made by the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

Rates for all but 6 out of the 99 classifications studied rose during the period from January 2, 1948, to July 1, 1949. Robert R. Behlow, the bureau's regional director in New York, stated that over half the increases were between 21 and 26 cents an hour.

Typical July 1, 1949 hourly rates established by collective bargaining for book and job printing shops were $2.88 for electrotypers; $2.48 for hand compositors, machine operators, and machinists; and $3 for photoengravers. In newspaper plants the union scales agreed upon for day work were $2.731 an hour for hand compositors, machine operators, and machinists; $2.576 for web pressmen; and $2.427 for stereotypers.

The standard workweek was generally 36½ hours in book and job shops and varied from 31½ to 37½ hours, depending upon the trade, in newspaper plants.

Memorial

In memory of our loving mother, Mrs. Ida Neilson, who passed away 6 years ago today, November 16, 1943. She always leaned to watch for us.

Anxious if we were late. In winter by the window, in summer by the gate.

And though we mocked her tenderness, Who has such foolish care, The long way home would seem because she waited there.

Her thoughts were all so full of us. She never could forget.

And so I think that where she is She must be watching yet.

Waiting till we come home to her, Anxious if we are late— Watching from Heaven's window, Learning from Heaven's gate.

Kurdt Proposes 'Vols' Participate In Apple Festival

Albert Kurdt, executive secretary of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce, last night suggested that the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association participate in next spring's Ulster County Apple Blossom Festival through selection of a queen to represent the organization.

Kurdt addressed the association at its meeting in High Falls. The festival will be resumed next spring, Kurdt informed them, and the association as one of the most active groups in the county, can be of important assistance.

This active interest of the volunteers in their companies and in the association, the speaker said, is of vast benefit to the county in many ways, and he suggested that the various companies follow through with the suggestion of Charles Elmdorf, president of the association, that fire houses be used more generally for the benefit of communities and particularly in the interests of the children.

The meeting was in observance of "Chief's Night," and several active and past chiefs attended. The active chiefs were: Gordon Elbert, Lomontville; Edward Ashton, New Paltz; Paul Bohen, Saxton; Howard Meyers, Centerville; Joseph L. Murphy, Kingston; Edward Smith, Poughkeepsie; Edward Mains, Port Jervis; and James Carlson, Connelly.

The past chiefs were: M. V. Bryant, Lomontville; L. Beutner, Hurley; Earl J. Stokes, High Falls; and Marvin Krom, Kerkhorkon.

Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy of Kingston informed the firemen that certificates for their basic training in the state school, would be distributed at the end of the month.

Morton Finch was elected a member of the board of directors for two years to fill a vacancy caused by the death of John A. Henney.

New members accepted by the association were: Harold Wilkins, Reginald Davis and Lester Lawrence of the Olive Bridge Fire Company; Carl Ambrosio, Moccasin and William Blakeley, High Falls.

Edward Heaney, son of the late John A. Heaney, was appointed to the Red Hat Committee. Harold Ryatt, a member of the legislative committee, reported on bills to be presented to the state legislature which are of interest to firemen.

It was announced that the board of directors would meet at central fire station, Kingston, Dec. 8.

President Carlton Beach of the High Falls Co., presented to J. Ellis Briggs, past president, the award given him for his service of 14 years as president of the High Falls Fire Company.

The meeting was adjourned in respect to the late John A. Heaney of Kingston, and Peter Horvick of Centerville.

The next meeting will be held in Port Jervis on Jan. 17, 1950. None will be held in December.

Hearing Brings No Opposition to Plan

A hearing last night in the common council chamber, city hall, on an ordinance governing the proposed city planning board, brought no important opposition to the regulations drafted by Corporation Council James G. The public hearing was conducted by Alderman James G. Connelly, chairman of the council's Laws and Rules Committee. It was the second hearing, since a planning board was suggested by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk. The first was on the proposal itself and the second on the ordinance which would regulate the formation and functions of the board.

War Widow Asks Public to Supply Answer for Son

Lynn, Mass., Nov. 16 (AP)—A heartbroken war widow in an open letter today pleaded with the world to give her the right answer for her 11-year-old son's question, "why did my daddy have to die?"

Mrs. E. Sylvia Goldstein, widow of Maurice Goldstein, who died with the 2nd Armored Infantry, 41st Division on Nov. 20, 1944, wrote the Lynn item:

"On Wednesday evening, Nov. 6, my eleven-year-old son, Laurence, was waylaid * * by several large boys. These boys insulted, spat, beat and kicked my son into the gutter because he was, as they sneeringly said, 'A Jew.'"

"Ironically enough my son was coming home from a Boy Scout meeting at which one of the watchwords I believe is: 'A scout is-reverent, he is reverent toward others, he is faithful in his religious duties and respects the convictions of others in matters of custom and religion.'"

"If my son had any way he would have been spared beating. But, being the son of a veteran, killed in the service of his country, he could do no less than stick it out against unfair odds and strike out against injustice, even as his father did before him."

"Perhaps if such incidents were brought to the attention of the public there would be fewer heart-breaks, like the one I mention. Maybe then too I would know the right answer to give my son when he asks: 'Why did my daddy have to die?'"

The item said the mother had not reported the incident to the police but that the paper had and the local chapter of B'nai B'rith was investigating the matter.

When he was not home at 9:30 that evening the matter was reported to Deputy Sheriff Joseph Gentile and County Investigator Clayton W. Vandenberg and Deputy Sheriff D. Sapp went to the area and continued a search until 3 a. m. Monday. State police were also notified.

If you have an ice cream scoop you've been using all summer don't put it away now that colder weather is here. It's an excellent tool to keep around the kitchen with which to serve mashed potatoes, tuna fish or salmon salad, or cottage cheese.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 16 (AP)—A surge of demand for automobile stocks helped lift the entire market today.

Steel and rail stocks in particular followed on the heels of the advancing motor issues.

Trading volume stepped up sharply when buying expanded in mid-morning. Earlier the market had shown rising tendencies but gains were small and business no more than routine.

The sudden rise reversed a two-day decline during which around $1,000,000,000 was chopped off the market value of all stocks listed on the exchange.

Chrysler stood out with a rise of more than a point and Studebaker gained just about a point. General Motors improved fractionally.

Helping to create interest in the motor section was an approaching dividend meeting for Studebaker directors, possibly late this week. While nothing so lavish as General Motors' recent $4.25 year-end dividend is expected, Wall Street hoped for a generous dividend.

Also ahead were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, San Francisco Nickel Plate, Southern Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, Southern Railway, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, United Aircraft, Emerson Radio, American Power & Light, du Pont, Eastman Kodak, General Electric, Philip Morris, International Paper, Texas Co., and U. S. Gypsum.

In the curb Consolidated Mining jumped more than 2 points at one time. Also up were Niagara Hudson Power, Pennroad, Soss Mfg., Standard Power & Light, United Light, Humble Oil, Electric Bond & Share, and Mfg. Cities Service, and Catalin.

working in a single plant or in a single city.

The other two major employers of electrical production workers—General Electric, with 125,000 and General Motors, 30,000—have steered clear of the bargaining election issue. General Electric said it will continue to deal with U.E. until ordered by the N.L.R.B. to do otherwise. General Motors declined comment.

International Harvester, however, has asked N.L.R.B. to clarify the status of the Farm Equipment (F.E.) Council of U.E. and the bargaining rights of F.E. locals. Dues collections are being impounded by the company pending a decision. Bargaining on wages and security provisions currently in progress will remain open until the situation is clarified. F.E. claims to represent 30,000 Harvester workers in 11 plants.

Around the country, courts continued to rule in U.E. cases. Some of the latest:

SCHENECTADY—State Supreme Court Justice John J. Alexander barred officers of the 13,000-member local at General Electric's Schenectady plant from using union funds for political or propaganda purposes. Union spending was limited to $3,500 weekly. The temporary injunction had been sought by the union president and other right wing leaders.

NEWARK—Federal Judge Guy L. Lake refused a temporary injunction which would have prevented rightists from seceding from Local 456 at the Westinghouse Elevator division plant here. He obtained a promise from right wingers, however, that no transfer of the local's funds will take place until both sides submit briefs within two weeks.

Yonkers—A group of seven members sued in the State Supreme Court to block Local 543's switch to the C.I.O. They asked a restraining order to prevent local officers from using union funds "for the purposes of a rival organization." A hearing will be held today. The 1,600-member local voted Nov. 3 to leave the U.E. and now holds a C.I.O. charter.

Nutley—Local 447, with 3,000 workers at Federal Telephone & Radio Corp. voted 552 to 8 to secede from U.E. but officials said no action will be taken until courts act on an injunction which would prevent secession and transfer of funds.

Among firms affected by the C.I.O. petition for bargaining elections are:

Kueffell and Esser, Hoboken, N. J.; Ford Instrument Company, Long Island City, N. Y.; Conmar Products Corporation, Newark, N. J.; Robert Reiner, Inc., Weehawken, N. J.; and the Speery Gyroscope Company, Great Neck, N. Y.

GET CONSISTENCY IN PUMPKIN PIE

GET GOOD RESULTS—Evaporated milk gives pumpkin checkerboard pie a special creaminess.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX Sea Staff Writer

When pumpkin pie has a firm custardy filling with a creamy taste, that's something to be doubly thankful for. To get that consistency and flavor, use evaporated milk in the recipe. The fat of this popular dairy food, now in abundant supply, is homogenized. That's why its use in pumpkin pie is so successful.

Pumpkin Checkerboard Pie (8 servings)

One and one-half cups canned or sieved cooked pumpkin, 3 eggs,

2/3 cup brown sugar, 1/4 teaspoon ginger, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon salt,

1 1/2 cups evaporated milk, 1/2 cup water, plain or cheese pastry for one-crust 10-inch pie, 1 package snappy cheese.

Mix pumpkin with all other ingredients. Pour into deep pie

plate lined with plain or cheese pastry. Make lattice top with strips of pastry and bake in a hot oven—425 degrees F.—for 10 minutes. Then reduce heat and bake 45 minutes longer or until the filling is firm and the crust delicately browned. When done, place rounds cut from a roll of snappy cheese on each point where the lattice crosses and return to the oven for 2 or 3 minutes to soften the cheese slightly.

Or, if the pie is to be reheated for serving, let it cool when removed from the oven, then before reheating, place the rounds of cheese on the pastry and heat in a moderate oven—350 degrees F.—for about 8 minutes.

The richness of evaporated milk combines smoothly with dark colored sweet potatoes to produce another special Thanksgiving dessert served warm with ice cream.

Sweet Potato Pone With Ice Cream (Serves 6-8)

One quart vanilla or butter-pecan ice cream (bulk), 1/2 cup evaporated milk, 1/2 cup water, 1 cup deep, colored sweet potatoes, uncooked, 2/3 cup sugar, 1/3 cup butter, melted, 2 eggs, well beaten, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 tablespoon grated orange rind, 1/4 teaspoon grated nutmeg.

Place ice cream in freezing compartment of refrigerator until needed. Combine evaporated milk and water; scald. Wash, peel and grate the sweet potatoes and mix them at once with all the other ingredients. Pour into a well-buttered square baking dish and bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees F. for 1 hour or until firm. Serve warm. For serving, place two large tablespoons of the pone in individual dishes with the ice cream ball between them.

Tomorrow's Menu

Breakfast: Orange juice, pork sausage, griddle cakes, butter or fortified margarine, syrup or honey, coffee, milk.

Luncheon: Tomato juice, macaroni and cheese, rye bread, butter or fortified margarine, baked apple, oatmeal cookies, tea, milk.

Dinner: Swiss steak, mashed potatoes, buttered cauliflower with chopped parsley, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, celery, pumpkin checkerboard pie, coffee, milk.

Garden Club Hears Speaker at Meeting

The final meeting of the club season was held by Ulster Garden Club at the home of Mrs. Robert R. Rodle, 83 Albany avenue, Tuesday afternoon. Peter Van Melle, well known nursery man, who lives in Poughkeepsie, was the guest speaker.

He spoke of the importance of foundation planting in making an artistic arrangement of the landscaping for a home. He noted that most homes were landscaped to advertise the property for future sale, rather than for the most beautiful and artistic setting. He suggested the use of other trees rather than the commonly used spruce and fir evergreens, and lilacs.

Among things to be considered in arranging the garden, Mr. Melle noted were the size of the house and placement on grounds. He suggested the use of dogwood trees whose white buds stay throughout the winter, white birch trees, small cwe trees, rhododendron, laurel, abelia grandiflora, Chinese Juniper, English ash, Japanese flowering crabapple and the many varieties of barberry.

Plans were outlined for next year. Mrs. C. V. D. Hutton will again be president of the club.

Tea was served after the meeting. Mrs. William Van Benschoten and Mrs. Wallace Codwise poured.

Good Taste Today

NO BRIDAL CLOTHES

Many letters in this column have asked whether a widow or divorcee marrying again may wear white and a wedding veil, but few that I can remember have asked "Is it wrong for someone who has not been married to plan a wedding in everyday clothes? Could such clothes at a large wedding be questioned?"

If the bride is very young, guests could hardly help feel the lack of the bridal picture, and she herself will very likely have regrets for not wearing traditional bridal clothes the only time she can. But if the bride is not very young, becoming and effective day clothes are not only permissible but often more suitable than would be the youthful bridal white and tulle.

Each to His Own Course

Dear Mrs. Post: When having dinner in a restaurant with friends and they order a soup first and we begin with the main dish, are we supposed to sit and wait for them to finish their soup before we begin?

Answer: If the waitress brings the main course at the same time that she brings their soup, you would certainly eat it and not allow it to grow cold.

Meaning of Senior

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother-in-law (a widow) refuses to add Sr. to her name, so that we are confused. My husband for this reason has kept on calling himself John Henry Doe, Jr. But many people are beginning on their own accord to drop the junior. We know this is wrong, but what can we do to avoid confusion?

Answer: Since his mother evidently fails to understand the importance of adding Sr. to her name, there is no way out—except your continuing to call yourself Mrs. John Henry Doe, Jr.—which you are not.

No Obligation on Bridegroom's Parents

Dear Mrs. Post: We are going as complete strangers to my son's wedding, arriving in the bride's town several days early and putting ourselves up at the hotel. What are our obligations in the way of entertaining for the bride and groom?

Answer: There are no obligations on the part of the groom's family. On the other hand, you may do anything that you would especially like to do and that seems practical.

Mrs. Post has prepared a leaflet,

7-25, which gives a variety of party menus including a sit-down wedding breakfast or a dinner. To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail.

Rules Meeting Scheduled at 'Y'

The annual basketball rules interpretation meeting sponsored by the Central Hudson Board of Certified Basketball Officials will be held at the Y.M.C.A. on Thursday at 8 p. m.

Vince Knoll, of Ellenville, a member of the executive board, will act as chairman, with Lou Schaler, physical director of the Y, handling the details.

Schaler points out that there are many new angles in the interpretation of the 1949-50 rules and all basketball players and officials in the area should be on hand.

Besides the reading of the new rules, there will be a paper on interpretation by Oswald Tower, of New York, the foremost national authority on rules interpretation.

Apple Blossom

Leading apple producing regions in the world, Kurt said. A permanent committee will be appointed as soon as the various counties complete their organization plans.

Preliminary plans call for a parade of county floats and musical units on Saturday, May 6, and Church Sunday on May 7. All churches of the entire valley will be encouraged to conduct special, appropriate services on that date. County queens will compete for the coveted title, "Hudson Valley Apple Blossom Queen," on Saturday and the judges' decision will be made known at the conclusion of the festival parade, when a coronation ceremony will take place.

A prospectus has been sent to each county in the Hudson Valley, listing tentative plans for the festival and its management.

In addition to the public events, the prospectus lists a small semi-formal reception and dance for county queens, their attendants, boy friends and general committee members on Friday evening, May 5.

If enough interest develops in the parade on May 6, the committee may include a high school band competition and a life and death contest, with prizes and trophies, the prospectus states. A pie baking contest may also be included.

A public festival ball for Saturday night has been suggested for inclusion.

The 1950 festival will be designated the fifth annual Apple Blossom Festival. The first was held in 1938 and the last in 1941, when seven counties participated.

The four pre-war festivals are remembered by many in this area as successful events. The first queen, Jane Ball, played in several motion pictures, also her coronation. Ellen Alhardt, the 1940 queen, became an outstanding success as a model.

was outdistanced—he had too much of a lead. He got into a parked car and drove away.

Kuchnermeister telephoned police, and at the same time a nearby squad car put out an alert. Within minutes all 18 cars in the district were on the move.

Using the license number furnished by the father, they finally spotted the car and cornered it.

The driver ran his car up on the lawn of a home, leaped out and fled as police fired at him.

The abductor disappeared. A short time later, however, officers said they called police to report two men had stolen his car and robbed him of $225.

Patrolmen Matthew Preisz and Larry Princinsky were sent to investigate. They arrested Mabrey immediately because he resembled the description of the abductor.

Also, they said, the license number he gave was the same as that of the pursued car.

strategy planning is evident in the current western trip of Chairman Guy Gabrielson of the Republican National Committee. Gabrielson spoke last night in Berkeley and again today at Los Angeles.

While Gabrielson spoke in the west, Senator Taft (R-Ohio), whose presidential stock depends greatly on the race he makes next year, issued a statement from his Washington office, looking out at the Truman program. He estimated that three Truman proposals would add more than $16,000,000,000 to the expected Federal deficit and lead only to "stagnation and austerity."

"We face a deficit of $5,500,000,000," Taft said. "Yet the Truman program would add to that $6,000,000,000 for compulsory medicine, $6,000,000,000 for the Brannan farm plan, $4,000,000,000 for U.M.T. (Universal Military Training) and other billions for services of all kinds."

Taft then asked: "How can we increase our Federal Tax 50 per cent without choking the development of all business expansion and creating vast unemployment?"

President Truman gave evidence, too, last night that he is not going to rest on the victories of his party in the recent off-year elections. For the second time in five days, he made it plain he is going to push hard for enactment of his civil rights program.

Addressing the National Council

When You "Close Up" Tonight . . .

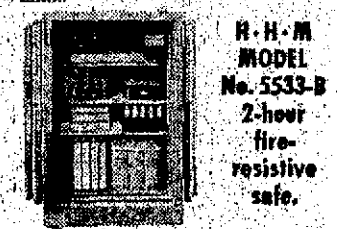

ARE YOUR VALUABLE PAPERS REALLY SAFE?

It's something to think about. Your building may be fireproof, but not so the contents of your store or office.

Vital records, cash, accounts receivable—can be wiped out by fire while you sleep. It's a sad fact that 4 out of 10 firms whose records burn go out of business.

A safe can protect you. But not just any safe. Every business—and every home, too—needs a modern, certified safe—one which has passed the fire, impact and explosion tests of the Underwriters' Laboratories.

That's what you get in a modern Herring-Hall-Marvin safe. There's a style and a size for every requirement, and the cost is less than you think.

tem of hiring, by which available work would be shared in turn by qualified men listed in hiring halls. These are a sort of union employment bureau, supplying men for ship jobs. One union-sought result of a rotation system would be to give aging sea captains and mates the same chance at work that would be granted young graduates of the Merchant Marine Academy.

Frank J. Taylor, president of the American Merchant Marine Institute, told reporters the ship owners were opposed to the hiring of officers by rotation because they wanted to be free to pick the men who would be their own representatives in charge of valuable properties. These men are union members.

Capt. Charles F. May, head of the A.P. Masters, Mates and Pilots, said the rotation hiring provision was only one issue. He said others included wages, hot meals, clothing allowances and general working conditions.

He spoke up for his program of anti-lynching, anti-poll tax and other anti-discrimination measures last Friday at a luncheon of the National Conference of Christians and Jews.
